Orientation

(1). How will this lecture help you in your scheme of cultured life? What is the purpose of my lecture?

(2). We should have broad view in studying the history of social and economic thought. History of literature, philosophy and natural sciences should not be neglected.

(3). What we, Japanese, lack in social and economic thinking? We were not cultured by classics in natural as well as in social sciences. We had no contemporary thinkers and poets such as Shakespeare, Milton, Kant, Hegel and many other human heritages.

(4). The Japanese do not like the word "Truth" (in German "Wahrheit", in Russian "Pravda"). Nevertheless we should be brave enough to learn the truth. I will endeavour to describe faithfully what I read, what events I experienced and what hard times I lived.
